

MYSTERIOUS ATTACK ON MADISON FARMER

Three Unknown Men Attack
Pete Wells Near College Hill and Endeavor to Murder Him at Top of Clay's Ferry Hill

As a result of an attempt of three unknown men to murder him apparently in cold blood, Pete Wells, a farmer of the College Hill section of Madison county, lies at the Gibson hospital here, with a bullet through his neck and badly "beat up" about the head and body.

Soon after news of the attack upon him got to Lexington, Mrs. Simmie McCreary, of 463 Maple street, hastened to Richmond in a taxicab to see him. She reached here about 2:30 o'clock Saturday morning and waited with local officers until she could go to the hospital to see him. She claims to be only a slight acquaintance of Wells, and to have no knowledge whatever why anyone should endeavor to kill him.

The whole affair is wrapped in a mystery that officers have as yet been unable to penetrate. Wells, who escaped death by a hair when the bullet sent through his neck barely missed his jugular vein, is conscious and talks freely of the affair.

He is unmarried and lives with his cousin, Walter Wells, about 15 miles east of Richmond. About seven o'clock Friday night, he says, he was called from the house by an unknown man. He went out to a car on the roadside, and found it contained three men. The car was a long touring car. Officers say that the men told Wells that Mrs. McCreary was in Richmond and wanted to see him; that she had been hurt and was waiting for him in this city. Wells refused to go with the men, then they asked him for a bucket of water for the car. Wells went to the house and got it for them, and as he poured water into the radiator, one of the men hit him in the face and over the head with a pistol butt and dragged him into the car.

Walter Wells heard his brother yell as he was struck, but before he could get outside, the car had driven off, and by the time he could reach town and notify the officers, all trace of the men with his brother had vanished. No one could be found who had seen the mysterious car pass through town.

The victim says, officers report, that he was carried on through Richmond by his abductors, and on out the Lexington pike. The men asked him if he had a diamond ring with him, which he possessed and with which it appeared they were familiar. Mrs. McCreary said while in the sheriff's office early Saturday that Wells had owned the ring two or three years and that it had cost him $250.

Wells denied having the ring. Then the three men asked him if he had any money, or had enough money to marry Mrs. McCreary. He said he had only a dollar or two. By this time the car had crossed the bridge at Clay's Ferry and was going up the hill on the Fayette side of the river. The three unknown men then began to discuss what they would do with him, Wells said. When he told them he had but little money, they planned to get rid of him some way. The man who was driving the car told his companions that he would "fix him". Wells says he was the one who struck him over the head while he was pouring water into the radiator at his brother's home.

They made Wells get out of the car and started walking down the hill. He had noticed a double barrel shot gun in the machine, a rifle that he says looked like an army rifle, and also noted that each of the men had a pistol. After walking a short distance down the hill, the driver told Wells to go on. Fearing that they were going to shoot and kill him, Wells begged them not to assassinate him in cold blood, but the car driver brusquely directed him to turn his head away from them. He turned and as he did so, the man shot him through the neck. The bullet entered the fleshy part of the neck, barely missing the jugular vein. A fraction of an inch either way and he would have been instantly killed.

Wells fell to the ground. He had already been severely beaten and he lay as if dead. One of them shot at him again, and thought he was dead. They then got into their car and drove hastily away toward Lexington.

Although weak from loss of blood and his injuries, Wells managed to drag himself down the hill to the store of William Rhorer, where he was taken in and given every attention possible. He requested them to have him taken to the Gibson hospital here rather than to Lexington. Wells asked Mr. Rhorer to notify his brother-in-law, Dave Bogie, on the Barnes Mill pike, by phone. Cars were soon sent for the wounded man and he was brought to the local hospital.

Sheriff Pete Whitlock, Deputy Sheriff Sant Bush and other officers had been aroused and had telephoned to Lexington officers. They went to the home of Mrs. McCreary there, but she told them she was unable to shed any light on the mysterious affair or the identity of the men who had endeavored to kill Wells. Mrs. McCreary soon came to Richmond in a taxi to see Wells. She came to the local officers and remained until the rest of the night with Patrolman Jack Hardin and other officers waiting for an opportunity to see Wells at the hospital.

She said that she had last seen Wells in Lexington Wednesday morning. Officers said Wells had been in Lexington for several days. Questioned as to her acquaintance with Wells, she said they were not sweethearts, but mere acquaintances. Officers said that Mrs. McCreary has been divorced from her husband. They said she has two children. She appeared to be well provided with money, handing the taxi driver a couple of large bills from which to make change for his fee. She appears about 30 or 35 years of age, and is well dressed. Wells said the three men who abducted him were all well dressed and in a high powered car. The woman declared emphatically that she knew of no reason why anyone should shoot Wells on her account. She said further she had no idea who they could have been.

Officers took her to the hospital about 9 o'clock to see Wells. Dr. Gibson reported that Wells was resting easily and appeared to have a good chance to recover.

Sheriff Whitlock, Deputy Bush and the nurse accompanied Mrs. McCreary to the bedside of Wells. She began to cry when she saw him. She told him she had come to see if he could describe the men so that they might be identified. Wells said that it was hard for him to describe them. One was short and chunky, he said. He could only see them distinctly, or when they would light a cigarette. They had whiskey in the car, he said, and tried to get him to drink some.

"Be sure to give him the right bottle, one remarked, when the others were trying to get him to drink. Wells, however, refused to drink. He said he thought they were going to force it down him once, however.

Mrs. McCreary and Wells talked for quite a while. Neither could throw any light on the identity of the men, however, and both said that they knew no reason why the assault should have been made.

Wells told how the whole thing happened. He said that the men searched him as they made the "hairpin" turn on the Madison county side of the river, and found only 10 cents on him. He said that he owned a very valuable diamond ring, which they asked him about. Wells said he had taken off his best clothes and had left the ring in one of his pockets.

The men then drove across the river, and it was when they reached the top of the hill on the Fayette county side of the river that the three men talked of what they were going to do with him. Wells said the chunky fellow told the other two they could do what they wanted to but that he was out of it. They told him to get out and walk up the hill away from the car, which he did. The other two men then walked down the hill and turned down a side road a short distance. One man remarked to the other:

"Be sure you get him. Give it to him right in the head."

They had gone but a short distance when one told him to turn his head and then fired almost point blank at him. When he fell, Wells said, the man fired again at him lying on the ground, but missed him. Both men then ran up the hill to the car and hastened off, picking up the chunky man further up the hill as they went. Wells said he lost consciousness for a minute, but soon found his head clear. He said his mouth filled with blood but he spit it out and dragged himself up to the pike and was soon able to get on to the store where he sought assistance.

$500 REWARD FOR WELLS' ASSAILANTS

Determined to ferret out the three men who assaulted, abducted and attempted to murder P. W. Wells, Madison county farmer, Sheriff P. S. Whitlock and Deputy Sheriff Sant Bush went to Lexington Saturday to confer with the Fayette county authorities.

The big touring car, with all curtains on in which the men hurried away after leaving Wells on the hillside, apparently dead, was last seen hastening toward Lexington.

Mr. Wells Saturday afternoon offered a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of the parties who ill-used him so fearfully. D. T. Bogie, brother-in-law, gave notice of reward. County Judge W. K. Price sought to get in communication with Gov. Morrow to have the executive also offer a reward on behalf of the state. Gov. Morrow was said to be in Catlettsburg, however, and could not be reached on the phone.

Mr. Bogie said that he feels confident that the assailants of Mr. Wells were after his large diamond ring. He said that Mr. Wells usually wore the ring or had it on his person. He believes that he was seen with it in Lexington and that the men learned his habits and home and came here to get it if possible.

WIDOW OF BEREAS FIRST PRESIDENT

Mr. R. H. Embree of the Richmond Welch store, has received news of the death at Woodstock, Ill., of his aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Embree Rogers, mother of Alan Rogers, publicity manager of the Big Four railroad and former newspaper man of Cincinnati. Mrs. Rogers was the widow of John R. Rogers, the first president of Berea College. Mrs. Rogers' death occurred at Woodstock, Ill. The remains were brought to Berea and taken to the home of President W. J. Hutchins, of Berea College, from whence the funeral will be held Monday. Mrs. Rogers is survived by three children. One of her sons invented the Rogers typograph and afterward became affiliated with the Mergenthaler Linotype company. Another son is editor of the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Catch Murderer in Italy

Cleveland, O., Dec. 3.—Vittoria Pisselli, who is said to have stabbed to death Daniel Kaber, a wealthy Lakewood publisher, two years ago, has been captured in Pi Palimosano, Italy, according to word received here from Cleveland detectives. As there is no extradition treaty, he probably will be tried in Italy.

EX-POSTMASTER

WILSON GETS 3 YEARS

Judge Cochran Passes Sentence On Ravenna Man In Federal Court At London

Louis Wilson, former postmaster at Ravenna, Estill county, was sentenced to serve three years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta by Judge A. M. J. Cochran in U. S. Court at London this week. Wilson was convicted in federal court here of having cashed money orders while serving as postmaster to the amount of nearly $5,000 and having converted the proceeds to his own use. Judge Cochran postponed sentencing of Wilson until he had studied the case. He handed down the sentence during the term at London.

Hugh Jacobs, country merchant of Lincoln county who was convicted of knowingly receiving stolen goods, was given a year and a day in the penitentiary. Jacobs caused considerable commotion among his bondsmen in disappearing from Richmond in the middle of the week. He was shortly afterwards found hiding out in a hay stack in Casey county and brought in by his bondsmen. Jacobs was alleged to have purchased $1,800 worth of stolen goods for $3 and several gallons of moonshine whiskey.

A number of federal prisoners who have been confined in jail here since federal court here, will be taken to Atlanta prison this week by Deputy Marshal George B. Caywood, of Frankfort. Hugh M. Samuels, of this city, former revenue officer, will probably go along as acting deputy marshal to assist Caywood with the prisoners. Among them is Harry Walls, Lexington man sent up for two years for impersonating government officer. His wife and five little children have been in town here to be near him ever since his trial.

JAPS RELINQUISH

SHANTUNG TO CHINA

Tokio Studies Arms Conference Developments While U. S. May Join Alliance

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Dec. 3.—Another important point in the Far Eastern discussion of the armament conference was won today by China in the committee of nine powers. Great Britain and the Japanese representatives, it was said, agreed to relinquish their leased territorial holdings in Shantung and also reported as offering to discuss retirement from their special territorial privileges in Manchuria.

U. S. May Become Party

To Anglo-Jap Alliance

Washington, Dec. 3. Negotiations in the naval ratio question before the Armament Conference were practically at a standstill today while the Japanese delegates awaited further word from Tokyo by today. The results of yesterday's conference between the principal American, British and Japanese delegates were under study by the Japanese cabinet and diplomatic advisory council. All indications were that whatever is proposed as a means to bring the United States and Japan together did not involve abandonment of the 5-5-3 ratio proposed by the United States and supported by Great Britain, but rather concerned other considerations which the Japanese regarded necessary to them. Chief among them is understood to be the question of further fortifications in the Pacific which the Japanese wish to see checked. Another is probably the Anglo-Japanese alliance about which there is feeling there may be some other agreement to which the United States might be a party.

NEW AUDITORIUM TO BE OPENED SUNDAY

After being closed for a month for decoration, the auditorium of the First Christian church will be opened for the first service next Sunday morning. Those who have had an opportunity to see recently decorated churches pronounce this one of the most beautiful auditoriums in the state. The work has been executed by the Schachne Studios of Dayton, Ohio, one of the best decorating firms in the country.

The women of the church have provided the funds for this splendid improvement. Mrs. R. E. Turley, the president of the organization, has been assisted on the decoration committee by Mrs. E. T. Tutt Burnam, Mrs. D. Willis Kennedy, Mrs. J. M. Povintz, Mrs. Lewis Neale, Mrs. Henry Cosby, Mrs. C. E. Smoot.

In addition to the wall decoration, radiator shields have been installed and attractive wall lights.

In the opening service Sunday morning there will be special music and Dr. H. W. Carpenter will

LEST WE FORGET- THE ONLY PRIZE IS NOT AUTOMOBILES

Miss Lula Rhodus

The attractive daughter of Mrs. Marion Prewitt, of Kirksville, wishes to thank her many friends for giving her such loyal support in the Richmond Daily Register subscription contest.

Miss Rhodus desires to win one of the grand prizes which will be given away on Dec. 15th and her friends and supporters should not fail her at this critical stage of the game.

Turn her diligent work, she is one of the leaders in this big contest and since the beginning her name has always been close to the top, and now if her friends, ending their renewals and subscriptions to her, and giving her their votes, Miss Rhodus will undoubtedly be a hard competitor in this race.

FATTY ARBUCKLE JURY SEEMS HUNG

(By Associated Press)

San Francisco, Dec. 3.—The jury considering the evidence submitted in the trial of Roscoe Arbuckle on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Virginia Rappe, retired to the jury room from the hotel where they spent the night at 10 o'clock this morning. Reports that the jury was divided 11 to 1 for acquittal persisted today. Arbuckle, chattered with newspaper men in an apparent carefree manner and did not have the haggard look he wore last night. Mrs. Pauline Belmont, prosecuting witness against Arbuckle, was arrested yesterday on a charge of bigamy.

He has just returned from a very successful meeting at the First Christian church in Birmingham. During the two weeks there were 84 added to the church there. While in Birmingham Dr. Carpenter filled an engagement for a series of addresses to the Business Men's Clubs of the city. In this capacity he was the guest of the Rotary, Kiwanis, Civitan, Community, Exchange and Forum clubs of Birmingham.

The Pastor's helpers deserve special praise for the interior decorations of this beautiful edifice which has just been completed. The ladies worked faithfully in raising money in order to bring expert decorators here from the Schachne Studios of Dayton, Ohio, who turned the interior of the church into a place of real beauty. Under the personal direction of Mr. Carl Peterson, who was assisted by Messrs. Anton Boyer and W. Cronley, for the past four weeks they have worked faithfully in decorating the walls, ceiling, woodwork and electrical fixtures, giving them a delicate tint of russet brown and ivory. The cloud effect upon the ceiling just over the large pipe organ is a piece of art which has been greatly admired by spectators. The large congregation will welcome the change of appearance in the building in their morning service Sunday.

The work performed by Mr. Peterson and his associates has attracted a great deal of attention and the officials of the State Bank & Trust Co. have awarded the contract for interior decorations at their bank and negotiations are now under way for the Elk's home to undergo similar decorations.

Two Fine Talking Machines and Big Cash Commissions Will be Given Those Working Act- ively Through This Campaign

Besides the Dodge Brothers touring car and the Ford sedan, the Daily Register is giving the workers in this subscription contest, two talking machines, one a Victor and the other an Edison. Both of these are the best that money can buy and any home would be proud to have them. Both are on display at Muncy Brothers' Furniture Store. The Dodge car you can see at Wood & White and the Ford sedan at the Richmond Motor Co. Suppose you take a look at these grand prizes and see for yourself just what they are and if you do it will put more "pep" in you for after you see these prizes we are sure that you will give every moment of your time in securing subscriptions and thereby in getting votes in the last lap of this contest.

Don't Be Discouraged

Of course everybody can't win one of the grand prizes, but you must realize there are four candidates who are going to win them, and why not you be one of this four? Then if you are an active worker, entirely through this campaign, you will receive a liberal cash commission, as the Daily Register is going to allow you ten per cent at the end of this campaign, if you are not one of the first four, or have not won a cash prize during the contest.

By competing actively to the end of the race we specifically mean one who turns in at least three yearly subscriptions during the last three weeks of the campaign, three each week or as many as nine in the last three weeks, all told.

Extra Votes

Remember that next week we still offering you extra votes, but not as many as has been offered for the same amount of money and each week these votes will be smaller, so if you expect to win send in all your subscriptions and don't hold them back, as it is against you, for every day you hold them back your extra votes are less.

And Don't Forget

You have just lots of people who have told you if you had a chance to win they would help you. Don't forget to remind them NOW IS THE TIME and you have a good chance to win. Get your promises into subscriptions and do it now for NOW IS THE TIME.

THERE ARE JUST TEN MORE WORKING DAYS BEFORE THE END.

HOW WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

May Escape the Dreaded Sufferings of that Period by Taking Mrs. Block's Advice
Hopkins, Minn.—"During Change of Life I had hot flashes and suffered for two years. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the paper and got good results from taking it. I recommend your medicine to my friends and you may publish this fact as a testimonial."—Mrs. ROBERT BLOCK, Box 542, Hopkins, Minn.

It has been said that not one woman in a thousand passes this perfectly natural change without experiencing a train of very annoying and sometimes painful symptoms. Those dreadful hot flashes, sinking spells, spots before the eyes, dizzy spells, nervousness, are only a few of the symptoms. Every woman at this age should profit by Mrs. Block's experience and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., about your health. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

BETTER ADVERTISING FOR BETTER BUSINESS

The national advertiser whose goods you carry wants to help you move these goods. So he advertises them—spends lots of money to do it.

And thus he advertises your place of business.

You see his ad. in the national magazines. If you ask him he'll probably send you advance proofs and schedules, so you can tie up with him in your local advertising.

Do you see? The same week he is telling your customers about your goods you can be doing the same thing in your local paper.

Cultivate your local editor. You need his column to sell your merchandise.

Careful Corset Buying Suggests

"Sa Camille"

Reg. Trade Mark, U. S. Pat. Office.
FRONT LACE CORSETS

A cheap corset requires as much steel as a good corset. A woman who buys two La Camille corsets a year instead of four cheap garments, is helping her Government conserve steel, and she is at the same time more comfortably corseted.

The exclusive patented—

features make La Camille superior to all others; without them, front lace corsets are incomplete. The Ventilo back section prevents all injurious pressure upon the spine. It is soft and yielding, but sufficiently rigid and shape-retaining to give support. The Ventilo front shield prevents all scoring of the flesh and gives the greatest possible range of adjustment. Don't accept front lace corsets containing substitutes or imitations.

EVERYTHING READY FOR VANCE MEETING

The First Presbyterian church has packed Friday night for the Vance meeting. The present week has been one for preparation for the Dr. Vance meeting, which began Monday night. Ray, Carpenter, who has just returned from a successful revival held in Birmingham, Ala., delivered a soul-stirring message in which he brought out the fact that every man and woman possessed with five minutes, and urged his hearers to examine their hearts and to be ready for the Vance meeting. He related the splendid work that is being accomplished by the commercial, civic and rotary clubs in Lexington, and how they are taking away from the old song order of a "good time" and lending their aid for the uplift of humanity.

The messages of the different chapters of the city of this week have been masterpieces and the people have been stirred spiritually and are better prepared to enter into this meeting the coming week. Dr. Vance is a well-known name, even in religious circles. He has been the instigator of the "Vance Movement" and Dr. Vance made his state of Kentucky his headquarters. He is a man of great ability and his message will be a revelation to the people. The Vance meeting will be a grand event and the people are urged to be ready for it. CLARK COUNTY NEWS

Judge Parks, the little seven-year-old boy of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Brock, had a very narrow escape Tuesday evening on his way home from school. In crossing Dry Fork creek on a plank his foot slipped and he fell in water about five feet deep. He did not know how to swim and had gone under the second time when Mr. Vernon Grange who lives nearby, heard the screams of older children and came to their rescue just in time to save the little fellow. When he got him out, he was still holding to his dinner bucket which was full of water. Mr. Grange then took the child to his home and gave him a hot drink. Mr. Grange has been a very good friend to the child and his family. He has been a very good friend to the child and his family. He has been a very good friend to the child and his family.

MOTHER GAVE IT

Virginia Lady Suffered With Aches and Pains Until Mother Began Giving Her Cardui.

Dublin, Va.—Miss Mary Alfta, residing on Route 2, near here, recently told a visitor of her interesting experience with Cardui. Miss Alfta said: "I had been suffering for some time with aches and pains, didn't feel like going. Would just drag around, and couldn't rest to do any good. I would suffer once a month with my back, sides and head. My limbs would ache and I didn't know what to do, but I knew I must do something, for I didn't get well by letting it run on."

"My mother is a believer in Cardui, for she saw what it did for others as well as herself, so she began giving it to me."

"It wasn't long before I saw a change. It was just what I needed. It regulated me. I began to eat and sleep, and the pain stopped."

"Cardui is without doubt the best female tonic made, and I am glad I can recommend it to others."

"If suffering with symptoms such as Miss Alfta mentions, or other ailments peculiar to women, way not begin Cardui at once? Its merit is well established by successful use for more than 40 years."

WAREHOUSE SALES PROVE FAILURE

Report From Horse Cave Says Bottom Drops Out of Market Opposing the Pool

Madison county tobacco men are much interested in news from Horse Cave, Hart County, that efforts to hold warehouse tobacco sales had fallen flat. The Lexington Herald had this about the matter:

The bottom dropped out of the burley tobacco market at Horse Cave Friday, according to information received at the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association headquarters, on South Broadway, from a Hart county member of the association. A warehouse unfriendly to the association has been open and selling burley tobacco for a few days. Friday prices dropped generally about ten cents a pound.

Many of the growers refused to accept the prices offered and hauled their tobacco back to the barns. Others stored it in Horse Cave and applied for membership in the association, leaving their tobacco stored until the association is ready to receive it.

Burley tobacco growers members of the association are going ahead with their plans for the election of district delegates December 12, and so far as reported the county organizations have named some of their strongest men. Organization Manager J. S. Passonneau said:

"Judging from the type of men nominated for delegates in the various counties," Mr. Passonneau said, "the men best fitted for leadership in the organization are likely to be selected as delegates to the district meetings. This, of course, will result in the selection of the growers' best men for directors."

"The members of the organization have the choice of their own preference for delegates, if the names on the ticket in each county do not meet with their approval, blank spaces being left to write in their preferences in such cases, but so far as we have heard there has been very little dissatisfaction with the nominations of the committees."

"Ballots will be in the hands of every grower in ample time to permit him to cast his vote December 12, before 4 o'clock in the afternoon, whether he casts that in person or by mail."

Everett McClure, of Aurora, Indiana, chairman of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association for Dearborn county, Ind., in notices of the reopening of the books of the association to give growers an opportunity to sign up their crops, says that "there is every reason to believe that our tobacco will be marketed quickly and on very favorable terms."

Information received at burley headquarters, 620-624 South Broadway, indicates that grower of Dearborn county are going out to make that county's pool 10 per cent strong.

A delegation of Bourbon county growers, who had a part in the signing up of more than 95 per cent of Bourbon's crop to the association, will go into Ohio Monday to aid in Brown, Adams and Clermont counties next week. Another delegation from Bourbon, Fayette and other counties will attend the meeting which Judge Robert W. Bingham is to address at Richmond Monday next and probably 15 to 20 will remain in the county throughout the week, aiding the Madison county workers in the drive in that county.

COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY A PROCLAMATION

To the voters of the Twenty-ninth Senatorial district of Kentucky, composed of the counties of Estill, Jackson, Madison, Owsley and Rockcastle. Greeting:

Hon. Clarence Miller, the regularly elected, qualified and acting Senator from the Twenty-ninth Senatorial District of Kentucky, composed of the counties of Estill, Jackson, Madison, Owsley and Rockcastle, having on November 22, 1921, tendered to me, as Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky as the result of said resignation said Senatorial District, and said resignation having been by me accepted, and there now being a vacancy in the office of Senator from the said Twenty-ninth Senatorial District of Kentucky as the result of said resignation and its acceptance by me, and the Senate of Kentucky not now being in session:

Now, Therefore, I, Edwin P. Morrow, Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the laws of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, do hereby call and order to be held on Saturday, the 24th day of December, 1921, a special election in said counties of Estill, Jackson, Madison, Owsley, and Rockcastle, composing the said Twenty-ninth Senatorial District of Kentucky, for the purpose of electing a Senator from the said Twenty-ninth Senatorial District to fill out the unexpired term of said Miller, resigned, as aforesaid.

The sheriff of the said counties of Estill, Jackson, Madison, Owsley and Rockcastle will cause to be opened on said day polls at the regular voting places in each of the voting precincts in their respective counties, for the purpose of holding said election. Said election shall be held in each of said precincts by the election officers who conducted the regular November, 1921, election. Said election shall in all things be conducted in the same manner and during the same hours as regular elections are held, and the ballot to be used in said election shall be prepared by the county court clerk of each county in the same manner as provided by law in regular elections. The returns shall be canvassed and the certificates issued to the successful candidate in the same way as returns are canvassed and certificates issued in regular elections.

The respective sheriffs of the counties of Estill, Jackson, Madison, Owsley, and Rockcastle shall, as provided by Section 1523, Kentucky Statutes, advertise the said election and the purposes thereof by written or printed notices, one of each shall be posted at the Court House door of their respective counties, and one at each of the voting places in their respective counties, and by publication in some newspaper printed in each of their respective counties, if any such there be.

A special registration is ordered to be held in the various precincts of the counties of Estill, Jackson, Madison, Owsley, and Rockcastle, on Saturday, December 17, 1921, during the regular registration hours, for the purpose of permitting those qualified voters who desire to participate in said special election and whose names do not appear on the last registration list, to register. Said special registration shall be conducted in each precinct by the officers who conducted the last general election in such precinct.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be fixed the great seal of the Commonwealth, this the thirtieth day of November, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, and the one hundred and thirtieth year of the Commonwealth.

EDWIN P. MORROW, Governor.
Fred A. Vaughan, Secretary of State.
T. Lee Stewart, Asst. Sec. of State.

LITTLE THEATRE CLUB'S OPENING

First Work of Season To Be Presented At Normal Chapel
Monday, Dec. 5th

The first work of the Little Theatre Club, of the Normal School, for the present year, will be presented in the chapel Monday afternoon and evening, December 5. This club, composed of some of the most talented members of the student body, has met with public approval during the past year, and has established a coterie of friends who look forward to all of the performances with assurance that each will be superior to the past. That is the expectation regarding the performance Monday, and the member of the cast have exerted every effort to meet these expectations.

In the first place, the three one-act plays that have been selected, are by the most famous of the modern writers. This in itself is a rare treat for many people and an opportunity that those who are interested in such work will not fail to take advantage of.
It is not often that one has the opportunity of witnessing such a production as George Middleton's "Embers," Lady Jane Gregory's "Spreading the News," or Oliphant Down's "Maker of Dreams," which to many critics is one of the most perfect plays of the present period, both in technique and in literary qualities.
Where ever the one-act play is known, the comedies of Lady Gregory are the favorites. The author who possibly understands the human heart best and is able to portray its peculiar phases is Middleton. These three widely different productions will afford the audience a rare chance of enjoying a most pleasing evening.

It is the purpose of the Club to present to its program in the afternoon, at 2:30, for those people who find it more convenient at that time than any other and especially for the children. The regular program, however, will be held in the evening at 8:15.

Last year the Club donated the proceeds of its first program to ward purchasing sweaters for the foot ball team. Following i-usual purpose of assisting some worthy cause, the proceeds of the present program will be given toward the establishment of a student loan fund. Many student during the school year have to return to their homes or ente some kind of work before the are prepared because their finances run short. This student loan fund is to be established that such a student, on proving his case and being passed upon by the proper authorities, may borrow enough to carry him over until he is able to repay the loan.
This is a worthy cause and those who are present will enjoy a double pleasure.

The following members of the club have been selected to form the different casts for the plays:
George Middleton's "Embers," Mattie Joe Deatherage, Oscar Kunkle, Ray Foster, Lillian Har-rod.

Lady Gregory's "Spreading the News," Roy Proctor, Sallie Gentry, Verlinda Deatherage, James Carr, Herbert Higgins, Margaret
Lane, Dorland Coates, Bradley
Combs, Paul Bush.

Down's "Maker of Dreams," Fern Stone, Richard Chamney
Raymond Rouse.

Call Us Up

There are three things—and only three—that wear out batteries. (1) Miles of service—(2) Months of service
—(3) Neglect and abuse.

The way to get the most months or the most miles—or both—is, of course, to get the right battery and then take care of it.

We'll sell you the right one—the Willard Threaded Rubber Battery —and more than that, we'll help you look after it.

Call us up.
Or better still—come in!

Miss Mary Catherine Arthur, who is teaching at Irvine, spent Thanksgiving with her parents,
Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Arthur, on Parrish avenue.

Rev. W. D. Thompson motored to Shallowford Saturday on business.

Miss Cordie Masterson was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs.
James Boyd an First street for Thanksgiving.

I wish to thank the many friends for their kindness during the long illness and death of my dear little daughter, Aurelia Lilian Gwynn, who died Nov. 11.

Also for the beautiful floral offerings from friends and Court of Calantha, deacons of the First Baptist church, Baptist Sunday school, B. Y. P. U. and Literary Club. I also wish to express my gratitude to Mrs. Stephen Hayns, Prof. J. A. White and Mrs. Ellen Wells for their unswerving devotion to a lonely widow in her hours of distress. That kind Providence may always watch over them is the prayer of this bereaved mother.—Mrs. Fannie S. Gwynn.

Mrs. Benjamin Harris, who has been sick for a few days, is better.

Mrs. Margaret Ballew is ill at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo.
B. Ballew.

Master Charles Rankin, who Miss Alma Covington is ill at has been on the sick list, is out, her home on East Main.
